

About Julie

I consider myself a student, in the old school tradition, of Italian cooking and having spent 12 years cooking and eating in Italy I now considered myself part Italian...and parts of me probably are!!!

Traditional Italian food is so gloriously simple that fancy menus need not apply. Fresh ingredients, preferably local and in season, speak for themselves....good olive oil, good company...no better recipe.

Now veal sandwiches were introduced to me once I moved to Toronto - not a stranger to veal, but breaded and slathered in homemade tomato sauce AND on a bun...pure HEAVEN! So after moving to the Durham Region over 8 years ago my husband and I decided....yep you guessed it...VEAL sandwiches was gonna be on the menu - heck...it practically IS the menu!

I love to watch people enjoy my food while talking and laughing with friends - life is so short to eat processed foods...so take a break from the drive-thrus and the deep fryers and stop by... check us out, enjoy an espresso, biscotti and little Dean Martin. Come on in... I dare you!
